Traveling by car

From Düsseldorf take the A52 motorway to exit 11 Schiefbahn, then turn right towards Korschenbroich onto Korschenbroicher Straße, continue on Willicher Straße, turn left into the very little village Raderbroich, turn right on Neusser Straße and then take a sharp right onto the far-right lane of Friedrich-Ebert-Straße.

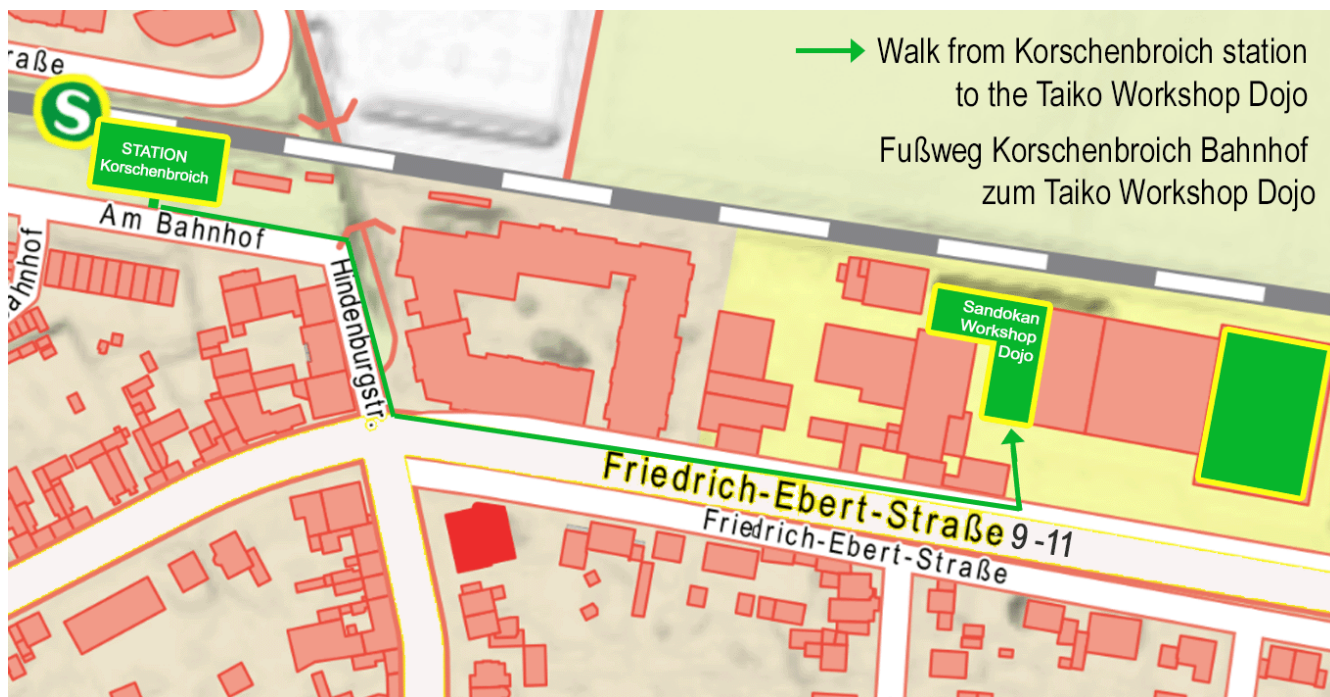

The Sandokan Dojo is on the right side and there is a car park directly in front of the building.

With the 24/48-hour ticket, you can travel alone or in a group of up to five people on all public transport buses, trains and trams (2nd class). Stamp once and travel back and forth as often as you like within the selected fare zone. Tickets are not based on the calendar day but are valid for either 24 or 48 hours after validation. They can be purchased at the ticket machine under the heading "all tickets". Take the A3 fare category if you are only going to the concert in Düsseldorf, and if you have to go to the workshops on that day, then take the B fare category.

Orientation/Room Management

The whole workshop event will take place in three different rooms, the dance school Dance 4 Art, my father's karate dojo Sandokan Karate and my little drumming school Taiko Basement. All rooms are connected and are close to each other, please have in mind that my room is indeed in the cellar if you have physical limitations. Feel free to stay at my Basement when there is no workshop and get some drinks or just have a nice chat with other like-minded people. It would be nice if we could add a little community flair. So you are warmly invited to stay for a while.

Drinks, food & Bachi

Of course, you can bring your own food and drinks. However, water and soft drinks will be free, sponsored by Kaiser Drums. And if your delicate drumming hands are hungry for new Bachi, there will also be a small Kaiser Drums booth there with a small collection.

Showering

If you want to take a free shower after the workshop, you can do so at my brother's gym called Fitfam. It is also very close to the workshop location and within walking distance.

Emergency Contact & just for chatting

If you don't find my place or need help with something, please give me a call or write me a WhatsApp. My number is: +49 152 53 58 4914
